FUNERAL FOR DR. ROBERTSON THIS AFTERNOON

Dr. J. V. Logan officiates at services.
Remains taken to Spartansburg, S. C.—Has lived here since 1889.

DECEASED ACTIVE IN CIVIC WORK DURING RESIDENCE

Funeral services for Dr. L. L. Robertson, whose death occurred yesterday afternoon at his home on Edgewood Road, were held at the home at 2 p.m. today. Dr. J. V. Logan of Louisville, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, officiated. The body was taken to the 3 o'clock train to be carried to Spartansburg, S. C., for interment.

Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Jack Simpson, who is Mrs. Robertson's sister, and Dr. Logan will accompany the body to Spartansburg. R. K. July, D. G. Banks and A. P. Liebig went with them as far as Knoxville.

The house was crowded with friends who came to pay the last honor to the man they had loved and respected so much. Flowers in profusion banked the casket. The services were quite short. Dr. Logan read the Scripture and offered a prayer. Two songs, "Only Remembred by What We Have Done," and "Good-night," were sung beautifully by a quartet composed of Miss Nora Newman, Mrs. U. G. Brummett, Will Hoe and T. R. Hill.

All Middlesboro physicians and all the deacons of the Presbyterian church were honorary pallbearers for the funeral. The active pallbearers were R. K. July, J. B. Sweeney, L. T. Smith, Julius Mitchell, T. R. Hill, J. H. Ramey, F. H. Whalin and F. L. Lee.

Leslie L. Robertson was born July 11, 1867, in Mason county, Kentucky, the son of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Robertson. He was educated in the University of Kentucky and the medical department of the University of Louisville, from which latter institution he graduated in 1888. He went from there to New York where he served as an intern in a hospital a year. Returning to Kentucky, he practiced medicine for a few months in Mayville.

In September, 1889, then, Dr. Robertson came to Middlesboro where he established himself in the practice of medicine and where he had lived ever since. He was one of the first settlers of this town and attended the first sale of lots here.

On June 3, 1890, Dr. Robertson was united in marriage with Miss St. Lawrence Fleming of Spartansburg, S. C., a daughter of Dr. C. Edwin Fleming, noted southern physician, and Mrs. Fleming.

During his residence in Middlesboro, Dr. Robertson has been an active figure in all forms of civic development. Keeping always in the forefront his profession which to him was never a business or a matter of fact calling, he became one of the foremost physicians in this entire section. No patient of Dr. Robertson's was ever just a case, and the deep sympathy and solicitude which he showed to all who came under his care has given him a place in the hearts of Middlesboro people that nothing can ever efface or replace.

Apart from his profession, Dr. Robertson was an influential business man. He owned considerable property in Middlesboro and had been interested in number of business enterprises. For the past few years, however, he had devoted most of his time, apart from his professional work, to the affairs of the National Bank of Middlesboro, of which he was president at the time of his death. Dr. Robertson was one of the organizers of the bank had been vice-president since its incorporation and had held the position of president since October, 1911.

Dr. Robertson was an active member of the First Presbyterian Church here, in which he had been a deacon for 13 years, giving faithfully and giving freely in all of its various phases of work.

Besides the bereaved wife, two brothers, Ed Robertson, of August, Ky., and Clarence Robertson, of Cincinnati, survive Dr. Robertson.

Slick Streets Play Havoc With Pedestrians, Motorists Alike

REED MAY ENTER PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Provides Extending American Right to Search for Liquor Beyond
3-Mile Limit

Missouri Senator Urged by Friends to

Nomination

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—New rum treaty with Great Britain signed today at the State Department provides for extension of American right to search ships beyond the three-mile coast limit and permits British vessels to bring ships stores into American ports under seal. Senate ratification only is required now to make it effective.

It was not before destination and seldom, John Owlesley fell on Twenty-first street and sprained a wrist.

Motorists have found it impossible to negotiate the icy streets. With the rear wheels spinning rapidly, the cars would slide backwards. Some of the merchants along Cumberland Avenue scattered circles in front of their stores to afford safety for pedestrians.

Reports from over the mountain indicate that the road is not only difficult but dangerous. A number of cars were "ditched" on the road during the height, hills and hollows in this vicinity and several minor accidents were reported. The Pineville road has been in very bad condition and traffic was almost channeled on it this morning.

It was an unusual sight this morning to see cars spinning around on the streets and roads not to see drivers their feet grounded on curbers trying to push their cars over slick places.

Chains seemed to do little to prevent skidding on the unusually smooth road they had been sold ice.

Dozens of persons fell this morning and a few were seriously hurt. John Piercy, a man with one arm and one leg, fell on Nineteenth street and dislocated his remaining arm. Connie Ferguson, attempting to descend Arthur Height with his two year old child in his arms, fell, and both were injured. The girl's arms were fractured and received the attention of a physiician.

Another interesting basketball game is promised local fans when Barbourville meets the Middlesboro high school team here tomorrow night. The game will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

A strenuous conflict is expected when the local quintet meets the Knox countians as the latter team is reported to be one of the most formidable in this section. Local Manchester had a larger score than the M. H. S. by 11 points.

Middleboro fans are particularly pleased at this chance to see a college game on the home court. L. M. U. has had a splendid basketball team for years. Milligan always has had good athletics. Her team beat L. M. U. several weeks ago but, with additional practice, the Harrogate team hopes to take off the big end of the score to night.

Milligan played Maryville College last night giving them a stiff game and holding them to a score of 25 to 20. Maryville has one of the best teams in Tennessee. Milligan players are: Polson; Sawyer and Zeller; Payne and Zeller.

The inter-church League practice match will be Friday night instead.

William Davies of Lexington, assistant grand secretary for the past year, has been named to fill out Mr. Elliott's term.

MAJOR HELBURN SLATED AS ROAD COMMISSIONER

ANNOUNCEMENT WILL BE MADE SOME TIME TODAY

that Major E. S. Helburn of Middlesboro will probably be one of the highway commissioners appointed today by Governor W. J. Fields, was learned today in local circles, from an authoritative source in Frankfort. The commissioners slated to be chosen for this commission are: W. C. Montgomery of Elizabethtown and former Senator H. L. Owens of Owensboro, democrat; and W. C. Hanna of Shivelyville and Major Helburn of Middlesboro, republicans. Governor Fields will probably be an ex-officio member of the board.

Major Helburn has been in Frankfort several days, presumably on this matter. Friends were at some trouble to persuade him to accept this position which is entirely honorary and entails a great deal of work. He has not been in good health for some time but he finally agreed to accept the position if he was appointed, because of the service which he would be able to render the state, particularly this section.

Bell county people are greatly pleased to hear this announcement, if it is verified, as Major Helburn has always been one of the section's most public-spirited and public-minded men, giving freely of his time and strength at the expense of his health.

GLASCO, Jan. 21.—Tense feeling still exists here today in connection with the trial of Will Chambers, negro, for the murder last December of Charles Bybee, white. Every effort is being made to have the case to the jury tonight. There was considerable talk of lynching on streets Tuesday after the defense challenged five jurors.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—America sold itself years ago on the idea of universal education; but it never realized until the last few years what a gigantic sum it was going to cost.

It means a vast increase in expenditure, taxation until it hurts, reports President McVey of the University of Kentucky.

"Every state university I know of is crowded to its capacity," says McVey.

Incomes and buildings have been enlarged, but they have not kept pace with the number of students. The expense of education for the individual student has been materially reduced in the last five years. Unless the trend is checked, that will result in a serious lessening in value of the instruction received."

There are three ways to improve the institutions, according to McVey. These are:

First, increase fees, so that students themselves will bear a larger portion of the cost.

Second, establish junior colleges under local auspices for freshmen and sophomore instruction, and let universities concentrate on advanced work.

Third, raise standards, requiring deeper and more thorough work for both admission and graduation, thereby eliminating the unfit and the indifferent.

"I believe both the first and third plans will be included in the final solution," declares McVey.

SERVICE MOTOR CO. MOVES
INTO NEW QUARTERS TODAY

Fixtures and accessories are being moved into the new brick building of the Service Motor company today. A 10,000-gallon gasoline tank is being placed under the ground at the foot of the building.

Accessories, gas oil and spare parts for the Star and Durant cars will be sold. Repairing of all kinds of cars will be done by a force of expert mechanics.

The new building is an ideal one for the purpose. The lower floor, on which is located the office and sales room, is well lighted with many large windows. The entire upper floor will be used for storage of cars, there being taken up on a second floor.

The regular luncheon of the Kiwanis club was not held today because of the death of Dr. L. L. Robertson, who had been one of the club's most active and most popular members.

R. LEE GIVENS WAIVES HEARING

Man Charged With Killing, Held Under $5000 Bond to Grand Jury

R. Lee Givens, charged with killing Isaac Minchew, Monday, waived preliminary examination this afternoon and the case will be investigated by the grand jury here on March 10. The defendant was required to make a $5000 bond.

The case was scheduled for hearing this morning but Judge J. S. Bingham was unable to come from Pineville then on account of the condition of the roads. When both sides gathered for the hearing this afternoon, defendant waived formal examination and his counsel and the Commonwealth attorney agreed upon the bail.

A telegram was received by the police department this morning from E. W. Minchew, brother of the deceased at Kinston, N. C., requesting information regarding the homicide. This was furnished by letter today.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 21.—Scholar H. A. MISSIONARY, SHOCKED AT MODERN FLAPPER, IS GOING BACK TO CONGO

MRS. HELEN L. SPRINGER

N.Y. ARTISTS, ETC. — After 4 hours one took at the American, bohemian flapper, Mrs. Helen L. Springer, mid-slavery, has taken the next boat back to the Congo.

We traveled 20,000 miles through Africa she remarked. But I've never met a type I understand so imperfectly as this modern woman that has grown up in an native com-try during my absence.

For 24 years Mrs. Springer and her husband traveled in Africa

They established schools and taught simple crafts to natives.

Yes, in all her experience, she repeats.

I've never known a native girl to strike her three cards at once, or trip so suggestively along her bolts

as the flapper of 3000 does her children and girls. And I find one of the six or seven Bantu babies more intelligent to me than the patter that goes on at tea tables and over the counters in New York.

So look to cannibal land, she

NOW IT'S STANDARDIZATION OF HUMANS; EAST OR WEST THEY'RE ALL THE SAME

WHEN MISS LYDIA HUTCHISON HITS BROADWAY (LEFT) SHE IS ONE OF THE REGULARS FROM HAT TO SHOES. EVEN THOUGH SHE MAY LOOK LIKE THIS (RIGHT) AT HOME.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Civilization is a wonderful thing and if it keeps at the present rate it's going to give a lot of us folks with about as much individuality as a row of cogs.

We'll all become as standardized as phonograph records or the parts of a car.

As witness Miss Lydia Hutchison, who lives out in Ashton, Idaho, one thousand or so inhabitants a lot of excitement out of staging races when the weather climbs up to 16 below zero. Lydia's no such at excitement herself, being the lady ever to race a dog team, when she rolled into New York other day to give the big town the over, a lot of inhabitants wanted down to the station to see what looked like.

Any sort of expected she'll stick head out of one of those fur hoods, according to the movies, is the thing a northern lady'd think of in cold weather.

She says, Lydia's earrings were just large and resplendent as any that gleamed between 34th and 42nd streets. Her suit was just the "oom-pah" distance from the curb, her hat was one of those little affairs with a fluffy diadem on the side that might have been put by the practiced hand of a Fifth Avenue modiste.

One could see at a glance that she had raised on corn flakes, she ate cream puffs, made out of milk, that she'd ridden in Fordland and Saturday Evening Post chewed spearmint gum because she likes nice things.

She looked at the New Yorkers. The New Yorkers looked at Lydia, disappointment was mutual.

It was the same way in Salt Lake City and Detroit and Chicago," commented Lydia. "They told me I'd like to go here because I'd see so many things. When I got to Chicago maybe I'd get a tip on a girl to do my hair, but say, we're doing our hair that way out in six months ago."

"Yes," said Lydia merrily. "I'm going down to Washington to see the president and then I'm going on to Montreal to see the team that Canada has entered in the races. But I don't expect I'll be in any different place than you do the people look the same and look the same and not the same. I'm terribly disappointed.

I'm going back to Ashton."

Oh Boy, for a Good Old-Fashioned Snow!

Sections of the country are as yet untouched by winter, even at this time of year. Snow is almost a rare sight here. Photographed after a snowfall lasting 12 days and nights. Oh boy!

to pay their last respects to the deceased.

This vicinity was shocked by the recent tragic death of a small boy and girl of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill. The boy, age 3, caught his clothing on fire from the grate and the girl, age 11, caught her clothing in trying to extinguish the flames which enveloped him. The Rev. Huntress conducted the funeral services at the McCreary cemetery.

Mrs. Jeff Treco remains in a serious condition. Her daughters, Mrs. Earl and Mrs. Wilson, of Cyril, Okla., are still at her bedside. Her son, Luke, and brother, George Day, of LaFollette, Ind., returned to their home Sunday morning.

Hobart Wright, who has been living at Akron, O., for some time, is visiting his brother, Harry L. Wright, this week. He will spend the remainder of the winter with relatives and friends in Clayborne county.

Mrs. Laura K. Wright, Miss Errie Gudger, Arnold Gibson and Hubert Snodderly motored to Tazewell and Cumberland Gap recently, stopping on the return trip for the pie social at Arthur, Tenn. They enjoyed the pie supper very much.

Tradition has it that bumper crops and good fruit years invariably follow an extreme cold winter. Basing their predictions on this on the recent zero weather, old timers of this section are already prophesying one of the largest crops for the coming summer and the greatest abundance of fruit that Claiborne county has ever had.

A protracted meeting is going on at Providence and Rev. Otto Pichas, prominent minister of this section, is conducting the services.

ROSE HILL NOTES

Robert Saylor and family have moved to St. Charles to live. He has a position in a bank there.

Harry Smith spent Thursday and Friday in Cincinnati transacting business connected with Ford cars.

Among those from here attending the funeral of Mrs. W. S. Anderson in Middlesboro were: Miss Lizzie McLean, the Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Anderson, Mrs. Belle Tyler, Miss Campbell Gillenwater, Miss Florence Bayless, M. B. Hobbs, and Mrs. M. A. Basless.

Mrs. Will Yearly, who had been an invalid for several years, died Saturday and was buried Monday. The Rev. L. S. Anderson conducted the funeral services. She is survived by her husband and three children, C. M. and T. S. Yearly, and a daughter.

The W. C. T. U. had a social Friday night from 7 to 9 o'clock. The first half of the evening was occupied with a program consisting of songs, a play by L. P. L., a talk on "Meaning of January 16," and a talk explaining medal contest work. It is hoped that every school will have a medal contest. The rest of the time was spent in contests, relays and a general social time. Apples and home-made candy were served. About one hundred attended, this being only about half of the number expected.

The talented L. M. U. quartette will also be present and furnish the musical entertainment. They are very popular in this section and never fail to bring a hearty encore.

Mr. Jones is a prominent speaker, being especially apt as a public orator, and his addresses are full of wit. James W. Baldwin, county superintendent, will also be here and deliver an address. After the program, there will be a pie social for the benefit of the school.

The Rev. Standifer and other ministers are having a wonderful service at Myers' Grove. Large crowds attend every service and there have been many conversions.

Mr. Mary Jane Hill, one of the oldest and best-known women of this section, was buried at the Red Hill cemetery Sunday morning. The Rev. Hugh Standifer conducted the funeral obsequies. He spoke very feelingly of her many good qualities. A large crowd of friends and relatives came

Muscle and Control Make Every Goal

ENERGY, strong muscles and steady nerves not only win the goals in football but all the other goals in life. And children have an excellent start toward making these goals when the foods they are served contain the elements which build and store up bodily energy and strong health.

The food element, Dextrose, which your doctor can tell you gives vigor and stamina to blood cells and tissue, is of utmost importance to growing children. And because Karo—either Blue Label or Red Label—contains such a large percentage of Dextrose, it is a most valuable food for them. They like the delicious tempting flavor, too.

makers of these famous corsets never allow any cut in prices but we finally agreed that we must do something to help reduce our stock.

We are the oldest store in Middlesboro and you have long ago learned that we do not put on a sale every time the wind blows. Our very conservative policy would not allow that. But now that we have announced a sale you will know immediately that you can look for real honest to goodness bargains. YOU WILL KNOW THIS IS NO FAKE SALE. You know that we mean business and that you are going to get unexpected values. HERE'S THE REASON FOR OUR SALE Suddenly we have found our store crowded with merchandise to the limit and with the Spring goods shipments already on the way. After many conferences we have decided to have you help us reduce this excess stock.

YOU KNOW THE QUALITY

We have cut the prices; you are to come and get them! On this page you will find only a very few of the bargains listed. Sale starts Saturday!

Try This Way
To Get Relief
From Head Colds

Nothing to Swallow—
You Just Melt a Little in a Spoon and Breath
in the Healing Vapors.

To stop a head cold, try this simple, direct method. Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the penetrating vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc. Also put a little up each nostril and snif well back.

Another method is to heat a tin cup, put in a teaspoonful of Vicks and inhale the vapors that way. As fast as the vapor goes there straight, throw out the melted Vicks and add fresh.

Another prefers Vicks for their children because it avoids so much internal dosing. It can be used with perfect safety on the young child.

END-OF-YEAR EXAMS FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS THIS WEEK

Hundreds of high school pupils are knitting their brows this week over difficult questions in end-of-year exams and wondering if they will "pass."

The first semester ends this week and the beginning of the second will be next Monday. Pupils of the senior high school will have examinations all this week, beginning yesterday. The junior high school examinations which began Monday were expected to be finished today.

In some of the grades the examinations are held, though such midyear tests are confined mainly to the junior and senior high schools.

WHERE DEMOCRATS WILL NAME THEIR CANDIDATE

This is famous old Madison Square Garden, New York City, where the Democratic National Convention probably will be held in June of this year. It was erected in 1880, designed by Stanford White, the famous architect, who was killed on the roof-garden of the building by Harry K. Thaw. In 1920 Tex Rickard took over the building and used it for sports promotions. Seating capacity is 16,000, but plans now are being made whereby it is hoped to increase that figure to 20,000.
